Summer Hire, other programs impacted by cost-reduction measures

The Installation Management Agency Europe Region has implemented a number of cost-saving measures designed to minimize impact to the Army mission while sustaining the Global War on Terror. One of the IMA-EURO directives is a theaterwide postponement of the Summer Hire program until funding becomes available. "The Army and the other services are engaged in a long and costly war on terrorism. We owe it to our troops to ensure they have everything they need to defeat the enemy, said IMA-EURO Region Director Russell B. Hall. "The money we get for installations is being prioritized so that support to the war and Army transformation are adequately funded," Hall said.

The suspension of the Summer Hire program is part of an extensive cost-reduction plan that includes a hiring freeze, the release of a number of temporary and term employees, a review of contract positions, and significant curtailment of temporary deployments, training, incentive awards and Government Purchase Cards. For the most current available information about the IMA-EURO cost-reduction plans access the following resources: IMA-EURO Web site (www.ima-e.army.mil); USAG Stuttgart Web site (www.stuttgart.army.mil); and future editions of the Stuttgart Community Post and The Citizen
